

PERSONAL DATA

Elena Valdman - doctor of medical sciences, professor, deputy director for science of the Zakusov Institute of Pharmacology, scientific secretary of the Russian Scientific Society of Pharmacologists

Born: August 17, 1960, Leningrad, Russia.

Address off.: Zakusov Institute of Pharmacology Russian Academy of Medical Sciences,
Baltiyskaya St., 8, 125315 Moscow, Russia

evaldman@m9com.ru evaldman@mail.ru

EDUCATION

Undergraduate: 1-st Medical Institute, Moscow, USSR, 1983, M.D.

Postgraduate: Rheumatology Institute Russian Academy of Medical Sciences, Moscow, Russia, 1983-86

Ph.D (Pharmacology) - 1991

Thesis: "Study of Pharmacological Effects of combined Treatment with Calcium Antagonists and Nootropic Drugs"

Doctor of science (Pharmacology) -2001

Thesis "Development of the novel drug for the therapy of Parkinson's disease based on the analysis of mechanism of action of aminoadamantane derivatives"

ACADEMICAL APPOINTMENTS

Research Associate: Department of Clinical Immunology, Rheumatology Institute, Russian Academy of Medical Sciences, Moscow, Russia, 1986 -1989

Junior researcher: Department of Experimental Pharmacology, Medical Biotechnology Institute, Russian Ministry of Health, Moscow, Russia, 1989 - 1991

Senior researcher: Department of Pharmacogenetics, Institute of Pharmacology Russian Academy of Medical Sciences, Moscow, Russia, 1991- present

Scientific secretary: Institute of Pharmacology Russian Academy of Medical Sciences,
Moscow, Russia, 1991- 2004

Deputy director for science, leading researcher of the psychopharmacology department:
Zakusov Institute of Pharmacology Russian Academy of Medical Sciences, 2004-present

RESEARCH ACTIVITIES

- antiparkinsonian drugs; mechanism of action
- behavioral pharmacology, models of Parkinson's disease
- pharmacogenetics

SOCIETY MEMBERSHIP

Russian Pharmacological Society (Russia) – scientific secretary

CINP member